Do you want to support someone to overcome language barriers?

Our Multilingual Volunteer Program supports individuals and families across a range of services to overcome obstacles related to language barriers. We focus on providing support on the telephone and in person to ensure that everyone can access our services.

What does a Multilingual Volunteer do?

Our Multilingual Volunteers support clients in a range of Communicare programs to ensure that they are able to communicate effectively and access the services they need.

Multilingual Volunteers may be required to assist over the phone or in person, to provide support to someone for whom English is not their first language.

We will provide you with training and support and contact you when we have a suitable opportunity for you within one of our existing programs.
